

6.9 Awareness-raising about non-formal and informal learning and quality youth work

On this page

1. Information providers / counselling structures
 2. Awareness raising initiatives
-

Information providers / counselling structures

The main information providers regarding information and guidance available to young people to learn about non-formal and informal learning are youth associations themselves. They benefit from a high degree of autonomy. They are in direct contact with young people.

Awareness raising initiatives

There is no public initiative organised to raise awareness on informal learning and youth work. Youth associations benefit from a high degree of autonomy.